PORTABLE OXYGEN RESUSCITATOR

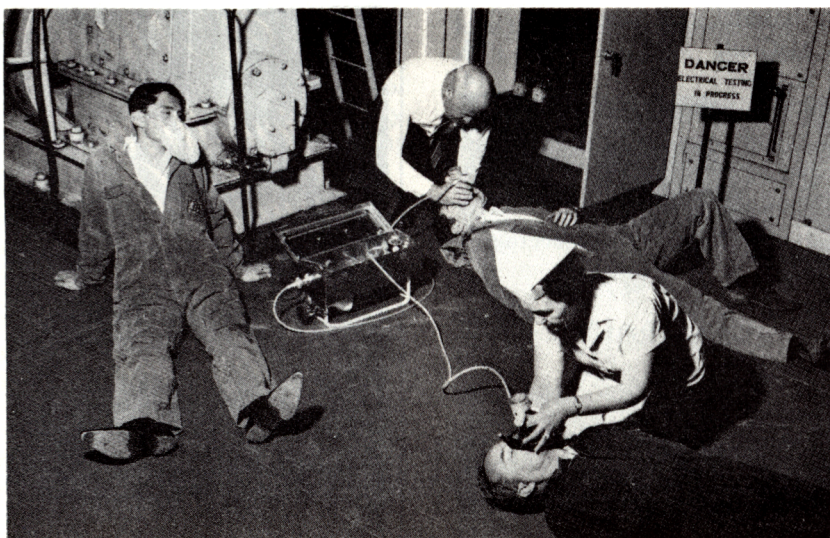

Tattersall's Club recently acquired an Oxy-Viva resuscitator, and a vivid portrayal of its many uses was provided in a demonstration on the Third Floor.

The equipment is designed for the prompt application of highly efficient resuscitation and inhalation in emergencies such as drowning, suffocation, electrocution, shock, severe exhaustion, gas poisoning, heart attack, stroke, haemorrhage, obstructions in air passages, smoke suffocation, head injury, drug overdoses.

The Oxy-Viva can be used where only the victim's face is accessible or where multiple injuries have occurred.

A feature is that two resuscitators and oxygen therapy or three resuscitators can be applied simultaneously from the self sealing outlets provided. Alternatively, the three services, i.e., suction, resuscitation and oxygen therapy as fitted to the standard unit can also be applied simultaneously.

Also resuscitation or oxygen therapy can readily be administered while carrying the patient on a stretcher.

THE CLUB SPIRIT

A good club man is a credit to his club. He is a good fellow on every floor of the club, in the pool, dining room, bar, everywhere.

He is popular with staff members. He pays his dues and debts freely, without question. He is a good mixer, quick to praise and slow to criticise.

That is why he is a good club man, and the club that can count many of his kind of member is a happy club.

A club is not, or should not be, a place offering only convenience for the luncheon break, besides brightening the hour before the journey homeward. If that were so, it wouldn't be a club but an austere assembly into which men would meander, but would not dwell, finding there nothing to hold them, and departing without feeling rested from the rush of the world outside.

The questioning member says, "What do I get out of the club?" In the best of clubs there are always those who "want to know" and it is right that they should be informed.

It is wrong that they should expect money's worth in the material things only. They should look for the richer dividends drawn from association with men of goodwill and good conduct, mutual trust and brotherhood; for truly, a club is what its members make it, no more, no less.

HIGH HONOUR

Last month Sir Edward Warren was decorated with the First Class Order of the Sacred Treasure by the Japanese Government for his contribution to the promotion of economic co-operation between Japan and Australia.

PROPOSED ALTERATIONS TO HALLWAY AND FOYER

Work on proposed alterations to the hall porters' area, visitors' room, foyer and booking office, will be commencing mid-May.

Members are asked to bear with the Committee for any inconvenience which may be caused during this period.

BACK O' BOURKE

Born at Woollahra and following the advice so frequently and freely given over the years — "Go west, young man" — one who has never had reason to regret it is Charlie Moxham.

With his headquarters at Bourke, Charlie became one of the leading registered bookmakers in the far western districts of N.S.W. and Queensland, and also acquired grazing properties over the Queensland border.

They were well qualified to discuss horses, racing and the land, for his party included Leo O'Sullivan, Jack Loughnan, Wal Hutchinson, Vin Barrett, Morry Anderson and Bill Kirwan.

HISTORY

Tattersall's Club Bowling Club was formed on 20th May, 1948, and the officers elected were patron S.E. Chatterton, president J.A. Roles, vice-presidents E.G. Dewdney, C.E. Young, committee C.L. Davis, H. Hill, E.F. Kreiger, E.C. Murray, and hon. secretary G.H. Booth.

Several bowling clubs offered their greens for social games, while Double Bay made a green available on Thursday afternoons.

First roll up took place on 3rd June, 1948, with 20 players plus a few members as onlookers. The venue was Double Bay, and Tattersall's Club was invited to make it its home green.

The official opening was held on 13th June, 1948, when seven rinks represented Tattersall's Club and the scores were Double Bay 138 defeating Tattersall's 134.

A happy inauguration for the many happy days that have ensued.

FOURTH GENERATION

Fred Allsop's daughter Lesley was recently granted a trainer's licence by the AJC.

She thus becomes the fourth generation Allsop to train horses at Randwick.

Lesley has already a two year old to begin her new vocation. She named it Tich (Nearchus-Pamela).

We ask Fred to convey our congratulations and best wishes to daughter Lesley for a most successful career.

DINING, WINING AND DANCING

Frank Muldoon entertained a bright party to celebrate his record catch of a black marlin which weighed 133½ lbs on a 30 lbs line at Port Stevens.

Tom and Glad Robinson celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary recently. Most honoured guest was Glad's mother now in her 87th year. Son David, student at Macquarie Uni, ensured plenty of laughter throughout the night.

George Lawton and his wife Lois entertained 30 guests on the occasion of their departure to England and the Continent for a three month holiday. In England they will meet up with daughter Catherine and she will accompany them on their tour of Europe.

VETERAN PASSES ON

Older members will be saddened to hear of the sudden passing of Bill de Bovis at the age of 86.

A self-made and successful businessman Bill established himself in the fashion industry with a number of millinery shops in the Newcastle and Sydney areas.

An early retirement left Bill free to pursue his favourite pastimes including golf, fishing and motoring. He especially enjoyed the facilities and camaraderie of the Third Floor.

No doubt some of the more senior members will still recall tales of Bill's leisurely motoring trips to Queensland, usually at the rate of 100 mpf (100 miles per fortnight) to better take advantage of favoured fishing grounds en route.

Bill de Bovis was the last direct male descendant of the ancient French family of Bovis, having its origins first recorded in Tuscany and Savoy in the 12th Century. He is survived by a daughter, two grandsons Philip and Roderick Spencer Grace (also members) and two great grand-children.

BEEN AROUND

Born in England Geoff Heard was educated at Queen Elizabeth College which was founded in 1588. He was with the Royal Marines from 1944-48 before going into commerce in Singapore. After ten years he came to Sydney where he became associated with a pharmaceutical business.

Geoff has been representing his Sydney firm in Queensland for the past two years, but has maintained his eight years membership with our Club and on his frequent visits to Sydney has enjoyed the sauna, swimming and handball.

Asked if he was interested in cricket, Geoff laconically answered, "Oh, a bit. I represented the State as opening batsman in Singapore."

Married, his wife is Patricia and they have two children, David 24 and Leisa 15, who is still at school at Toowoomba.

"And Geoff concluded, "After all that my good friends Tom Abernethy and Norm Rogers now know all about me."

VALE BILL KELSO

The death recently of Bill Kelso marked the end of a saga of the turf begun a century ago by his grandfather Bill Kelso I.

Throughout three generations, Bill Kelsos made history on the turf — training, racing and handling a long line of thoroughbreds and maintaining a record of outstanding success in the production of champion gallopers, champion jockeys and a line of trainers who, after Kelso tuition, themselves became champions.

The family established an unblemished reputation under the Australian Jockey Club, by whom their integrity was never questioned.

Bill became a member of the N.S.W. Owners and Trainers Association as soon as he received his training ticket, more than 30 years ago. Early in his career he became a committeeman and worked with other executives of the association to bring about many important reforms of value to the racing world.

One of his best achievements was in partnership with a friend of his school-days, fellow member and bookmaker Homer Jones, with whom Bill instituted an annual sports service at St. Jude's Church, Randwick. Held on the Sunday evening before the AJC Derby, it was organised by Bill for many years.

He participated in many other community interests including Rotary. He was the first trainer in Rotary anywhere, and soon became president of the Randwick Rotary Club.

His idea of sportsmen's nights was an instant drawcard, later introduced by other organisations all over Australia.

Bill was also president of Randwick Public School Old Boys' Association and a member of the Royal Agricultural Society.

While still an executive member of the Owners and Trainers Association he was made a life member for his service. Among the reforms he helped achieve in the racing world were the introduction of emergency acceptors, and the drawing of barrier numbers at acceptance to allow the public and all concerned to be better informed.

Easier and quicker access for trainers to the betting ring from the saddling enclosure at Randwick and Warwick Farm was another innovation.

Bill was instrumental in having the weights of fillies raised in the Gimcrack to avoid their being forced to race with saddles which were too light when making their turf debut.

An ardent cricket fan, he was a member of the SCG for many years, and often would choose to attend a big match rather than the racecourse.

Among Bill's turf successes was multi-race winner, the mare Persist, which he trained for fellow Club member Ernie Goodall. Other winners included Haxton, Iroquois, Little Miss Marco, Lucky Stride, Rim Boy and Teranyan.

The passing of Bill Kelso marks the end of the family's association with the training of racehorses, but it is not the end of the family which has multiplied to the generation. A proud day for Bill was the one on which he took his small grandson, also named Bill, to visit Tattersall's, of which his own grandfather was a member.

At the time of his death Bill was 71 years old. To his family and relations the sincere condolences of Tattersall's Club members are conveyed.

JULES VERNE

Dr. Marcel Schreiber and his wife Shirley are away on a six months overseas trip. Their itinerary was well thought out and reads like a tourist guide. They went by air to Africa to see the Kruger Game Reserve and Victoria Falls, thence the schedule included Ethiopia, Israel, the Greek Isles, then to Rome, where they intended to purchase a car and tour the Continent.

Next off to Britain for a medical conference, and home to Sydney via Copenhagen, Helsinki, Leningrad, Moscow, Japan and Hong Kong.

729 XI

Well known TV identity and vice president of the 729 Club Kevin Chapman has ensured the appropriate appearance of its cricket teams.

Kevin, who is himself a pretty fair player, wielded the willow in Darwin and was previously associated with the Japan Yokahama Cricket and Athletics Club.

Now there are ample bats, balls, bails and sundry equipment, and no excuses for missed catches.

FROM EAGLE HAWK

Harry Plant, Jack Loughnan and Bill Kirwan had a real session recounting their far west bush experiences. They talked of the two-up games and of the different personalities that formed the rings; of the bronco riding feats; and the hard earned cheques that were quickly busted.

Harry Plant told of a well known character who would surely be remembered by many an old timer. He earned his money by breaking in horses, and when his cheque was available he immediately set out on a spree. When finally the inevitable happened he would again visit the hotel and plead "I am the ladies' pet. All the way from Eagle Hawk. Born in a calf pen. Educated on a leg rope and rocked to sleep on a buckjumper. Don't you know me?"

And Harry said it never failed to gain a sympathetic drink.

ALL SPORTS JACK

Jack Hamilton Morris was at Sydney Grammar School circa those great sportsmen Alec Ross, Otto Nottling, Johnny Wallace and Huck Findlay, Jack obtained his Ph.C. at Sydney Uni where he played in the inter-faculty RU competition. On graduation he went into the pharmacy business at Cooma and as a "lilywhite" he played Rugby League with the Cooma Greens.

He then moved to Nowra where he engaged in pharmacy for 37 years, retiring in 1970. There he was twice singles bowls champion, 1942-43, and also won the Nowra golf championship in 1940.

In a brief sojourn in Fiji, Jack played Rugby Union (the Dirty Reds) and was a barrier of some note having a respectable harrier for those days of 2m6secs for the 880. As Jack also rowed with the North Sydney Club, he surely was a "Jack of all sports."

And he is a member of the AJC and SCG.

CATERPILLAR

Really a Novocastrian John Vale is one of the lads from Armidale De La Salle. He was in the RU seconds, and the first XI being an opening batsman.

He is a member of a well known firm which has a great reputation for earth moving. John has a petite wife, Fay and children Gerard (11) and Rosemary (9). He is a member of the Turramurra Bowling Club and is an earnest horse admirer, being a member of the AJC, and STC.

Did you say swimming? Too right - Third Floor, Tuesdays and Thursdays.

ORDER PLEASE

Regularly in the Club is Tom Kennedy who was granted his AJC trainer's permit at the age of 22. He graduated from Pat Nailon's stables where he was foreman and commenced his training career with two horses housed in two stables at Rosehill.

From this humble beginning Tom eventually built up one of the most modern stabling projects at Rosehill, Nebo Lodge, which was later acquired by leviathan owner Stan Fox.

Less than two years ago Tom was allotted his Randwick stables by the AJC committee. He has high hopes of a couple of new comers to his stables. One two year old, Gold Brick, owned by Jack and Bob Ingham, is bred to win a derby. His fourth dam, Fire Maiden, is a half sister to Enfield, who sired the Melbourne Cup winners Rimfire and Sirius.

Tom also has a good two year old brother to My Amazon, which has been named Saint Martin by owner Alan Morrisby in honour of France's champion jockey.

Another Tattersall's Club owner breeder Jim Fleming has sent an English bred filly sired by derby winner Never Say Die to Tom at his Midstream Lodge. Amongst his impressive clientele are also Tattersall's members John Kelly (Newhaven Park stud) and Keith Harris (Leeholm stud).

Tom has had three world tours and has studied overseas training methods. He is also ideally qualified to hold his onerous position of federal president of the Australian Trainers Association.

ANOTHER OLYMPIAN

Our rep. oarsman Michael Morgan has this season been a member of the eight which won the N.S.W. State championship, the Victorian title (first time ever), and ultimately the Australian championship, the King's Cup.

These efforts have culminated in his selection as a member of the rowing team to compete at the Munich Olympic Games. It is hoped the grand slam will be achieved by adding a gold medal to the silver won at the Mexico Olympics.

PERSONALITY OF THE MONTH

W.J. STACK

Bill Stack was this year elected president of the Taronga Zoological Park Trust.

This is but one of Bill's many interests, the range of which must cover the whole spectrum.

Born and educated in Brisbane, his sporting interests include tennis, golf, swimming, surfing and flying.

Bill is a life member of the Royal Aero Club of N.S.W., a member of the AJC, STC, SCG, Royal Automobile Club, Lawn Tennis Association, White City Club, Royal Motor Yacht Club, American National Club and the Aviation Club.

He was appointed to the board of the Royal Prince Alfred Hospital in 1955, and is a director of that board with extra duties on the house and finance committees.

However, the name of W.J. Stack is synonymous with the motor trade. Bill began his career in this industry as a spare parts salesman in Queensland, became a salesman for the Hudson-Essex-Rolls Royce group, a sales manager for the Chrysler group, and joined the GMH group when it was first established in Australia in 1926.

In 1931, at the height of the depression, Bill was transferred to Sydney to become the assistant sales manager for this state. Later he was to become the Australian car and vehicle sales manager at the central office of the company in Melbourne.

During these progressive changes in the motor industry, Bill became the first Australian ever to drive a Pontiac vehicle. On learning that these vehicles were to be represented in Australia by a new and separate distributor, Bill asked and got the franchise in N.S.W., and in 1935 resigned from G.M.H. to establish his own company.

Bill's appointment to the Trust seemed a natural outcome of his intense interest in animals from the time he was a teenager and paid his first visit to Taronga Zoo.

His special interest in the animal world has always been the gorilla. Long before he became a Zoo trustee he knew the late Sir Edward Hallstrom, Zoo director, well enough to

"pester the life out of him to get a gorilla."

This particular interest began during one of his visits to America, when he saw the magnificent gorilla specimen in St. Louis Zoo, known as gargantua.

Bill was first appointed to the Taronga Zoological Park Trust in 1960. He was elected vice president in 1969, and re-elected to that position each year until this year when he was elected president.

TATTERSALL'S CLUB SKI CLUB

Tattersall's Club Ski Club has booked the Dining Room on the Fourth Floor for its first pre-season social function. This will take the form of a dinner dance, preceded by cocktails in the Club Room, and should help to get the body and lower limbs nice and supple for the slopes.

As the Ski Club is, as yet, a small but growing band of members, it is hoped that Third Floor patrons will help to make this night a great success.

Enthusiasts are asked to note the date, Tuesday, 20th June, which is just a week after the skiing season officially begins on the long weekend in June. The price is only $14 a double, and includes beverages of all types.

There is only the odd vacancy left for the week at Falls Creek, Victoria, in August, and the week at the Matterhorn Inn at Perisher is booked out. However there is still room for the October holiday weekend package deal.

For the benefit of Tattersall's Club members joining the Ski Club and about to have their initiation in the exhilaration and joys of snow activities, the following excerpts should be of interest.

Members of the Perisher Ski Patrol Association are putting up with a lot of giggling lately. Comments like . . . "with all those crosses to bear you are in the right place" . . . "please adjust your halos on entering and leaving."

The reason is that the patrol's new headquarters in Perisher Valley are in the basement of the local church. That should boost attendances at Sunday morning service!

Perisher Valley management, which was unable to provide the patrol with suitable alternative space, has donated $500 towards the rent.

Short skis were introduced into Australia several seasons ago but have never been really popular.

This year following a boom in GLM skis and teaching techniques in the U.S., the short ski is here to stay.

GLM stands for graduated length method and has been introduced as a teaching technique for beginners by two resorts, Thredbo and Smiggins.

Basically the technique involves putting the new skier on shorter than usual skis to start with. The pupil is graduated to longer and longer skis as he improves and becomes capable of handling them.

Normally the appropriate ski length is selected by a combination of height and weight. For example a girl weighing 8 st. 10 lb. with a height of 5 ft.

Charles Coppa amongst the snow gums.

4 in. would use a 185 cm. ski which is exactly six feet in length.

With the GLM method, the same girl will commence on a 125 cm. ski, which is only four feet long, then progress to a 150 cm. ski (five feet long).

Surveys in the U.S. showed that the GLM method removed much of the hard work and frustrations for the beginner skier. Specifically they highlighted the following points:

a. Normally unathletic people were strongly motivated to learn to ski.

b. Pupils had more fun in the learning process.

c. Progress from beginner to intermediate standard was greatly accelerated.

d. Greater number of pupils came back for further lessons.

e. Injury rates among beginners were dramatically reduced.

GLM skis are available at the same hiring rates as ordinary skis. Longer skis will be provided at no extra cost as the pupil progresses.

BOWLING NOTES

STAN CHATTERTON AND KEN WILLIAMS MADE LIFE MEMBERS OF TATTERSALL'S CLUB BOWLING CLUB

At a recent meeting of the Bowling Club committee it was unanimously agreed that Stan and Ken join the ranks of the honoured few, namely Gordon Booth, Eric Quinton and Harold Hill.

Twenty-four years have passed since Stan took the chair at a meeting held to form our Bowling Club.

Ken, also a foundation committee-man of TCBC, has had with Stan an almost unbroken association since 1948.

Congratulations to two of our "ever-greens."

COMING EVENTS

Newcastle Tattersall's versus Tattersall's (hosts) at Pennant Hills Bowling Club on Thursday, 1st June.

Annual general meeting on Monday, 26th June at 2.30 p.m. in the Sports man's Room.

TROPHY WINNERS:

Bellevue Hill, 30th March: K. Manion E. Franks (vis) R. Storey.

City, 7th April: E. Franks (vis), H.E. Davis.

South Coogee, 13th April, City Tattersall's defeated Tattersall's 245 - 204, a margin of 41 shots. Tattersall's trophy winners were F. Hidden, G. Morrow, S. Chatterton.

Rose Bay, 20th April: A. Walker, E. Rheuben, N. Grace (vis), E. Emanuel (vis).

As guests of City Tattersall's Club at South Coogee, we were again unsuccessful. However, back in the club house winners and losers, on common ground, enjoyed a neighbourly drink along with the usual post mortems. Ron Young must be getting weary carrying the Laurie Taylor trophy around each time we meet. It seems that Fuzz should change the treatment.

Singles Championship, Rose Bay, 20th April: Semi final: H. Hill 31 defeated W. West 24.

Bill seemed to have the edge on Harold with an eight shot lead (24-16), however "what a bowler" put the long ones in over the rise, to win seven shots up. Harold now meets the winner of Ron Relton and Bert Wake-lin in the final.

CAR PARKING FOR MEMBERS

Members are reminded that casual parking is available at Stocks and Holdings House, 181 Castlereagh Street, Sydney.

This parking is available from 6.30 p.m. Monday to Saturday at 60 cents per car per night, to be admitted only upon presentation of current membership.

The basis of our arrangement with Consolidated Press for casual parking is that our Club has been allocated 50 permanent spaces from a total of 200 in the building.

As the car park is not open to the general public, and there are only three tenants concerned, namely Tattersall's Club, Consolidated Press, and Stocks and Holdings House, our Club will have the advantage of additional space for evening parking as areas are vacated after business hours by the other tenants. Whereas this facility is generally regarded as being available from 6.30 p.m. daily, members may find that they can gain entry earlier than the time indicated.

These facilities are available to members upon the terms and conditions set out on the Club's notice boards.

All enquiries to the Secretary.

Tattersall's Golf Club has now reached a membership peak of 326 players and there seems no limit to the enthusiasm of our golfing fraternity.

Pennant Hills brought a good roll-up last month and we enjoyed superb conditions as befits a course and club celebrating its 50th anniversary.

Leo Christie and visitor John Morrison certainly found things to their liking for they carried off the fourball event with a solid 43 points.

John Morrison was the dominating performer registering an individual tally of 38 points. Birdies at the 2nd and 8th holes which yielded four stableford points on each occasion provided the frills to a 24-point outward run.

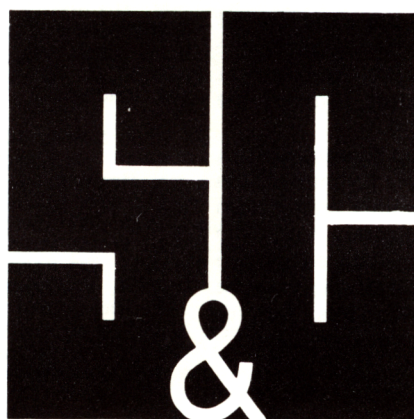

There were fewer fireworks coming home but 19 points on the back nine was enough to clinch victory by a point over runners-up Tony Eilbeck and his visitor Jock Scougall.

Jock Scougall was in fine form and his 40 points made him an easy winner of the sweepstake event.

The individual member's trophy went to Ian Buckle who got home on a countback from that consistent warrior Ted Peoples with Bruce Cox only one back on 33 points.

Our next golf day is at the Australian on 30th May, and members are advised to book early as this will be a bumper day.

SWIMMING NOTES

by SAM BLOCK

CHARLES COPPA SKIED TO VICTORY IN MONTHLY POINT SCORE

ROGER CLARK FORCED TO THE FRONT IN NATIVE SON TROPHY.

These two swimmers have been amongst the most enthusiastic members of the Swimming Club, and both were previously close up in point scores during the season. Charles took the honours by one point from Roger with Nick Heath half a point behind followed closely by John Ward, Derek Jackson, Basil Phillips and Bruce Upcroft.

Continuing his run of successes Roger Clark has again taken the lead by four points from previous leader Basil Phillips in Bill Kirwan's coveted Native Son Trophy.

With twelve events to complete the series only 20 odd points separate the leading 14 competitors, any one of whom could ultimately run out the winner.

Despite Col Bowes famous remark "last again" he figures prominently in fourth place, a mere nine points from the leader. Unfortunately Col, who has had his handicap reduced by two seconds, thinks consideration should be shown to aged participants, but his fighting effort is a worthy achievement.

Nick Heath, in winning two relays and one handicap event during the month, is well in the running in third place and looks like being amongst the prize money.

The boys always enjoy seeing Bill Kendall in the pool, whose take-off and turn are still one of the highlights. He won a brace relay final, aided by Leigh Bowes, in a thrilling finish.

The check starter must have got out of bed on the wrong side a few weeks back as he outed four swimmers for starting before time. Would advise the boys to be more careful in future.

Nice to see Rhys Jordan back with us again. Rhys broke his right arm a few months ago, and just to show he had no preference later broke the left arm.

Sid Kay's smiling face has been missing lately, the reason being pressure of business.

During the month the handicapper's frown fell on A. Tyler, D. McCreery, N. Rogers, K. Cross, T. Patterson, C. Coppa, D. Jackson, R. Clark and T. Thompson.

Best winning times were N. Rogers 20.6, I. Lane 20.7 and W. Orme 21.0

Russell Debney is out of hospital but will be hors de combat for at least five or six weeks.

Unfortunate news during the month was that of Neville Amy being laid low with a heart attack. Take it easy, Neville, and all the boys on the Third Floor wish you a speedy recovery.

Congratulations to our Club supporters Morry Anderson on his successive wins with Latin Knight, High Moss and Better Still. Keep up the good work, Morry.
